Bunbury Watermill Trust Newsletter

You might be forgiven for thinking that our efforts to acquire Bunbury Watermill would never bear fruit. Indeed, it has sometimes seemed a little bit like that to us; nonetheless we have persisted and have now reached the point where it seems realistic to start thinking about how we shall run the Mill once it is transferred to the Trust.

A lot of people have been very generous in offering both the help and the money that have allowed the project to proceed. The Trustees would like to thank you and explain what is happening. We would also like your views about where we go from here and to find out what practical help you would like to give.

We have permission from United Utilities to hold a meeting in the classroom at the Mill and this will take place on Tuesday 8th November. The meeting will start at 7.30 pm with a general introduction and hopefully a cup of tea or coffee (volunteers willing). It will not be a formal meeting but rather a round table discussion about the progress made to date and the help that is likely to be required in the preparations for launch and on-going operation of the Mill.

If you have not made contact with us yet about volunteering, this could be the ideal opportunity to learn more about the Mill and join our team.

Whilst we try to keep everyone who has been in touch with the Trust involved and up to date via the occasional newsletters plus social media postings, our communication could be more effective if we were able to keep in touch with you through a more direct means. Therefore, wherever possible please let us have your email address.

If you are interested in helping bring this Mill back into operation but cannot make the meeting please do let us know. The most certain way of doing this is by email to tom_gilchrist@bunburymill.co.uk or by telephoning Tom Gilchrist (07966 878390) or Ernest Croley (01829 260344)

We look forward to meeting you.
